

Zarqa University

Faculty of Allied Medical Sciences

Department of Medical Technology

0701481

Special Topics

The course introduces students to basic skills in literature searching and usage of literature searching tools. The student will select a topic of interest in biomedical sciences, gather necessary information from different sources, write a term paper and present his/her paper in a public seminar.