

Faculty of Educational Sciences

Fiqh & Seera and their Teaching Methods

Course Description :

This course aims at studying Islamic education in general and the jurisprudence and biography in particular in terms of concept, characteristics and objectives of teaching in the basic stage and the fields in which it is discussed and the general and special methods of teaching its various branches in these classes, and the specific means and activity and the associated methods of evaluation and the factors that help in teaching them.