

Zarqa University
Faculty of Educational Science
Department of Library and Information Technology

No. 0512353

Information Networks and On - line Search (3 Ch.)

This course is intended to introduce students to the concepts of information networks. Types, topology, functions and requirements of networks. Computers and telecommunications. Networks and information retrieval and electronic publishing. Networks and circulation and inter-library loan. electronic mail, online retrieval database and databanks. search strategies, on - line public access catalogs. The Internet. Case studies.