

Zarqa University
Faculty of Nursing

Undergraduate Nursing Program Intended Learning Outcomes (ILOs)

Upon completion of the undergraduate Nursing Program, students will be able to:

- Demonstrate competency in providing holistic and professional high quality nursing care for individuals, families, and communities considering their uniqueness, worth, dignity, and diversity of needs.
- Illustrate inter-professional communication and collaboration with colleagues, clients, and health care team to provide safe, evidence based, and patient-centered care.
- Employ critical thinking, problem solving, ethical reasoning, lifelong learning to enhance in nursing practice.
- Apply professional standards, values, and behaviors in providing nursing care for clients across their life span.
- Plan safe client care strategies utilizing quality improvement principles, ethical principles, and the available resources.
- Assume responsible and accountable professional behaviors that reflect standards of nursing practice.
- Incorporate research findings and scientific evidences into the planning, implementation, and evaluation of professional nursing practice.
- Demonstrate an understanding of health care system, regulations, policies, scope of practice, and patient rights.
- Exhibit leadership, decision making, and management skills in professional practice of nursing.