

18th April 2024

To Zarqa University and to whom it may concern

The Chartered Institute of Linguists (CIOL) Royal Charter objects require us to:

- Contribute towards international goodwill by encouraging the effective study and practice of languages;
- Provide means of recognising linguists who are qualified in the professions, the arts, the sciences, industry, trade and commerce;
- Provide linguistic assistance for and co-operating with any person or groups of persons interested in the use, teaching or study of languages.

In line with the Royal Charter and according to the regulations of the Recognition, Validation and Certification (RVC) scheme:

CIOL, the Chartered Institute of Linguists, is pleased to confer Recognised Programme status on the BA English Language and Literature programme at Zarqa University. CIOL recognises the University's ambition to promote research and deliver an education that fulfils the needs of students and prepares them for work in local, regional and international markets. Based on the information provided, CIOL is satisfied that the BAs in English Language and Literature, and Translation, have appropriate governance and quality assurance in place and provide a well-structured, and academically sound pathway of study in which students can develop, thrive and achieve.

The Recognised programme status has been successfully renewed and is valid until the end of April 2025.

Yours sincerely,

John Worne
